

Stephan Egli
Chief Commercial Officer
OnAir

Stephan Egli is Chief Commercial Officer of OnAir and plays a critical role in expanding the company's products and customer base. He is responsible for marketing and sales, business development as well as brand and account management.

Stephan has more than 15 years of executive management experience in the global aviation industry. He was Vice President Network Management and member of the Executive Committee at Swissair. Starting in 1997 he also served as Vice President Europe, Middle East and Africa for Delta Airlines, based in London, and more recently as Senior Vice President Global Marketing for LSG Holding, a Lufthansa subsidiary.

He has a strong track record managing many airline marketing functions such as Product and Brand Management, Pricing and Revenue Management, Sales and Key Account Management, Customer Service and Inflight Functions.

Stephan Egli, a Swiss national, holds an MBA from the Thunderbird School of Global Management in Phoenix, Arizona. Stephan is based at OnAir's headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland.

Stephan is married and has two children.